2009-2010 Season Sponsors

A Message from the Directors, Roald and Stacie Martinsen...

As the curtain comes up on opening night of Irving Berlin's White Christmas in December, 2009, audience expectations will be great. Carroll Theatre set the bar high with 2007's musical, Andrew Lloyd Webber's The Phantom of the Opera, which was seen by over 6,000 people from across the metroplex in sell-out performances. As the reviews came in, it was clear this was no ordinary high school theatre group; the skills of the cast, crew, orchestra, chorus and directors made this a performance to remember. The production was honored at the Betty Lynn Buckley awards in May, 2008 for promoting excellence in high school musical theatre.

As a previous sponsor of Carroll Theatre, your contributions and ongoing support have been instrumental in helping us take on challenging scripts and scores. The tradition of excellence continues this year with a brand new release of one of the most beloved holiday favorites of all time. White Christmas was written for the timeless film in 1954 and Carroll is thrilled to be one of the first high schools in the nation to perform this heartwarming musical adaptation, which features seventeen Irving Berlin songs and a book by David Ives and Paul Blake.

We would like to give you the opportunity to be a part of this year's journey by inviting you to enjoy the benefits of sponsorship for another season. Please review the attached sponsorship information to help you choose which package works best for you and your organization. One of our members will be in touch with you soon to help answer any questions you may have.

In sponsoring our department you will benefit from heightened visibility, with unique marketing opportunities and exposure to community officials, dignitaries and theatre families who are committed to supporting our educational sponsors. Your mentoring will help us continue to excel as one of the premiere high school theatre programs in the country.

Thank you for supporting Carroll Theatre.
